Two accidents minutes apart in same location in Crenshaw County Elba man killed in Sunday wreck

by Linda Hodge, Editor

Two separate single vehicle crashes early Sunday morning, April 15, in the same location in Crenshaw County claimed two lives and sent another person to a Montgomery, Ala. hospital. One of the two fatalities was an Elba man.

Captain Tracy Nelson with the Alabama State Troopers said the two accidents each occurred minutes apart, and therefore were considered separate accidents; however, the two vehicles struck the same tree in the roadway in the same location. Nelson said the accidents remain under investigation, but the preliminary investigation indicates bad weather was a factor in both accidents.

The first of the two accidents happened at 5:50 a.m. Sunday morning, April 15, on Alabama Highway 97 at the 7-mile marker, seven miles south of Highland Home. This accident claimed the life of Reginald Bernard Howard, age 52, of Selma, Ala. Captain Nelson said Howard was pronounced dead at the scene by Crenshaw County Coroner Ronnie Turner.

Howard was driving a 1987 Chevrolet truck when the vehicle struck the tree in the roadway, which was believed to have been knocked down by severe storms moving through the area Sunday morning. A passenger in the truck, Tyrome Butler, age 46, also of Selma, was transported to Baptist South in Montgomery to receive treatment for injuries he sustained in the accident.

Only 5 minutes after the first accident, another single vehicle accident occurred in the same location on Alabama Highway 97, at the 7-mile marker, seven miles south of Highland Home. According to Captain Nelson, this accident at 5:55 a.m. claimed the life of Dillon Alexander Roberts, age 26, of Elba, Ala.

Roberts was driving a 2000 Ford Expedition when the vehicle struck the tree in the road. He too was pronounced dead at the scene by Crenshaw County Coroner Ronnie Turner.

Roberts was a 2010 graduate of Zion Chapel Schools in Coffee County. His funeral arrangements, announced by Hayes Funeral Home in Elba, had him listed as a current resident of Luverne, Ala.

Roberts' funeral was held Wednesday, April 18, at 11 a.m. from the chapel of Hayes Funeral Home in Elba. See the full obituary for Dillon Roberts on Page 3 of today's paper.

New fire truck in service for Elba FD

The newest member of the Elba Volunteer Fire Department rolled into town Wednesday afternoon, April 11, as the new Engine 4 arrived home.

Four members of the fire department traveled to Seminary, Miss. on Wednesday to bring Elba's new Engine 4 home. As of Wednesday night, the truck (shown above) was deemed in service to serve the people of Elba and surrounding areas.

Engine 4 holds 3,000 gallons of water with a 1,500 gpm pump and also carries two 3,500 gallon portable drop tanks on board, according to Elba Firefighters. This means, the new Engine 4 along with Engine 3 allows the Elba Fire Department to put 4,800 gallons of water on scene with just two vehicles.

Elba Fire Chief Drew Parker said the department is thankful to the city leaders, grant writers, and the citizens of Elba, for supporting and assisting in allowing the department to make the purchase of this new truck, which will allow the fire department to better serve its citizens

Elba Police investigating Tuesday afternoon, April 17, shooting

One shooting victim airlifted to hospital

A shooting Tuesday afternoon, April 17, during the 2 o'clock hour, resulted in one person being airlifted from Elba for emergency medical treatment after being shot in the back. His condition was unknown as of press time Tuesday evening.

The details of what happened are very sketchy at press time as police were still trying to sort out exactly what happened. One person familiar with the subjects involved in the shooting believes the young man shot was a bystander who got caught up in the crossfire between area citizens who have been in ongoing disagreements for some time.

The events reportedly started in Mulberry Heights some time before 2 p.m. Tuesday and had moved to the Family Dollar parking lot on Claxton Avenue by the time law enforcement and rescue personnel arrived in the area.

The investigation is ongoing at this time.

HISTORICAL MARKER UNVEILED...AL200 Bicentennial Ambassador Bobby Joe Seales (left) and Heath Wyrosdick (back), chairman of the Evergreen Cemetery board, accepted the duty last Friday, April 13, of officially unveiling the historical marker recently bestowed by the state historical commission for Elba's Evergreen Cemetery. This was done during a special ceremony held last Friday morning at the cemetery. Also shown watching as the sign is unveiled is Nell Gilmer, chairman of Elba's AL200 Bicentennial committee.

As City of Elba celebrates 165 years of incorporation birthday Historic marker unveiled at Evergreen Cemetery

by Linda Hodge, Editor

Elba recently received an Alabama Historical Commission Cemetery Marker, and it was officially unveiled last Friday morning, April 13, at the cemetery.

This event marked the completion of one of the projects for Elba's participation in the AL200 Bicentennial [the official celebration of Alabama's 200th birthday]. The Evergreen Cemetery was added to the Alabama Registry of historic cemeteries in 2016.

The marker was erected by the recently restored 109-year-old summer house, and this was all part of Elba's first AL200 Bicentennial project.

Sandy Bynum, director of the Elba Chamber of Commerce and co-chairman of the Elba AL200 Bicentennial committee, welcomed everyone to the unveiling event. She said the next project for Elba's bicentennial committee would be to serve as a host for the "Making Alabama" traveling history exhibit, which displays 200 years of Alabama history and beyond.

Bynum said Elba was chosen to be the Coffee County host for the traveling exhibit, and it would be displayed at the National Security Conference Center from July 4-25 for all to come and see.

"Today is a very monu-

A birthday cake, created by Chelsea Cooper, was enjoyed during the Evergreen Cemetery Historic Marker Unveiling Ceremony last Friday in Elba. April 13th was significant for Elba in that it was the 165th anniversary of the town becoming the incorporated City of Elba. Therefore, Elba celebrates its birthday on April 13th, and the Elba AL200 Bicentennial committee thought it fitting to bring the two events together last Friday.

mental day in Elba's history," Bynum said last Friday morning at Evergreen Cemetery. "Not only because we are unveiling this wonderful marker in our cemetery, but for other reasons as well."

Jean Helms, the history chairperson for the Elba Bicentennial committee and former Elba High School history teacher, noted it was April 13, 1953, which was 165 years ago last Friday, that a petition was circulated to create a resolution to incorporate Elba.

"I haven't the slightest idea how to change people, but I still keep a long list of prospective candidates just in case I should ever figure it out." - David Sedaris

We saw a quote recently from a parent who admitted to being on Facebook solely to "spy" on his children. This parent admitted he could find out more about his teenagers there than from trying to talk with them all day. Think how many times you have lamented that your teenage children just don't want to tell you things taking that back more years than most of us want to admit, how did you fit into that mode during your teen years and are grateful there was no Facebook available to "rat" on you . . . just the neighbors?

The legal wrangling this week in Washington and New York over President Trump, his attorney Michael Cohen - and the world took a surprise turn Monday (at least to us). The attorney was forced in federal court to reveal the name of a "third" client. Since we are not following every move on this saga, we will not try to understand the 'why' of this turn of events. Most of us do express surprise that Fox News' Sean Hannity has some sort of ties to this same lawyer that has been known to describe himself as the long time 'fixer' for Trump. Excerpts of Hannity's TV broadcasts shown over and over again Monday evening confirm that he is very, very much a Donald Trump worshiper. That is fine until his underlying ties are not fully disclosed but his words go out over the airways as "hard news". Tuesday morning a couple of avid Fox News fans were heard expressing reservations over Hannity's TV programming. We agree with President Trump that there is entirely too much 'fake news' floating around the world but add that no one faction should be credited with being the only group spewing it out. It reminds this old moss-back of the ancient saying, "Don't believe anything you hear nor half of what you see".

In case you missed this earth-shattering event, there was a debate of Alabama candidates for governor held in Birmingham last week. Well it was without Governor Kay Ivey, who chose to be busy elsewhere. The only short article we saw after the event indicated that those on the stage spent much of their time and energy complaining because Ivey was not present. They apparently wanted to be critical of the lady to her face, or maybe felt their event would have had more free news coverage if the leading candidate in the upcoming election was part of the debate.

A lady trying to trace her family roots was in town Monday. She had been hitting brick walls due to more than one set of children, adoptions, etc. The regrettable thing is that the family members who could have connected the dots have died without leaving any clues for her to follow. We encourage those who are still alive to leave some sort of trail for those who want to connect with all family members.

LBW Community College's academic courses transfer

Editorial by
Dr. Herb Riedel, LBWCC
president

It doesn't matter if you want to become a doctor, lawyer, architect, anthropologist, engineer, dentist, journalist, scientist, or any other career field requiring at least a four-year degree, they all require general education courses.

Courses such as English, history, math, science, literature, art, and speech are included in those core courses required for all majors. LBW Community College offers all those and more, all taught at university level by faculty with the same credential requirements.

Why is that important? Students attending LBWCC in an academic transfer program of study save at least half the cost for the first two years of college and are assured of credit transfer when following the Alabama Articulation Program, also called STARS (Statewide Articulation Reporting System).

STARS is a computerized articulation and transfer planning system designed to inform students about degree requirements, course equivalents, and other transfer information relating to specific majors at each state funded four-year institution.

For those interested in attending a private college, the Alabama Community College System's "2 to 4 Transfer Program" allows for the seamless transfer from the community college to selected independent colleges in Alabama. This will guide the student through the first two years of coursework and prevent loss of credit hours upon transferring.

At LBWCC, students can earn an Associate Degree in Arts, Associate Degree in Science, or Associate Degree in Applied Science. By first earning a two-year degree before transferring to a four-year university, students improve their earning potential. That credential is a great benefit, especially if they need to work before transferring or while studying for a bachelor's degree.

Within the next two years, according to research conducted by Georgetown University, 65 percent of all jobs in the American economy will require postsecondary education and training beyond high school. It is projected that 35 percent of job openings will require at least a bachelor's degree and 30 percent will require some college or an associate's degree.

The same research predicts job openings in healthcare, community services, and STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math) will grow the fastest among occupational clusters. Judgment and decision making, communications, analysis, and administration will be the four most in-demand competencies in the labor market.

Students who start their academic program this summer at LBWCC and attend classes year-round could earn enough credits in four semesters to begin a third year at their selected transfer institution. That saves time and greatly impacts financial expenses, while also placing them ahead of their peers in the time it takes to graduate.

There are several options during the summer term at LBW, such as taking one or two classes during one or both of the short mini-terms and additional courses for the regular term. If taking courses during the mini-terms, students can still enjoy several weeks for vacation plans.

In addition, LBW offers online and hybrid course options every semester. Hybrid courses include both online and on-campus components during the semester. About 80 percent of a degree can be earned at LBWCC through online courses.

LBWCC's faculty and staff are committed to student success. We have support programs designed to help students achieve academic success and improve their opportunity to graduate. They can also develop leadership skills by participating in clubs and organizations.

As high school students look forward to upcoming commencement ceremonies, we urge them and their parents to view the event as a new educational beginning and take advantage of the opportunity to open the door of postsecondary education as early as this summer.

We are here, close to home, to help you achieve your educational goals. There's no better time than now to get started on your academic coursework and earn a college credential.

Visit www.lbwcc.edu for more information.

COFFEE COUNTY CONSERVATION DISTRICT/NRCS HOSTS 13th ANNUAL COFFEE COUNTY GROUNDWATER FESTIVAL... This year's groundwater festival was held on three separate days. Coffee County fourth grade students enjoyed a fun filled day of hands on activities while learning about groundwater protection and conservation. On April 5th, 193 students and their teachers from Elba, Kinston, New Brockton, and Zion Chapel attended the festival. On April 10th, 276 students and their teachers from Harrand Creek, Pinedale, and Rucker Blvd attended the festival. On April 12th, 272 students and their teachers from Hillcrest and Holly Hill attended the festival. All three events were held at the New Brockton Farm Center where each student rotated through three activity sessions. In session one, students built their own bracelet using beads to represent the different stages of the water cycle. In session two, students learned about filtration by attempting to remove pollutants from water. In the last session, students assembled an edible aquifer using chocolate syrup to represent an oil spill. Eating the aquifer was the most fun of all! Winners from the poster contest from each school were announced during the awards ceremony. Monetary awards totaling $1,720 were given out to students and their teachers during the three days of festivals. The Natural Resources Conservation Service, Coffee County Master Gardeners and many Coffee County residents volunteered their time to assist with the event and present demonstrations. Due to its efforts to protect groundwater, the Coffee County Conservation District is an active member of the Groundwater Foundation. Financial sponsors and supporters of the event include Coffee County Conservation District and Wiregrass RC&D who provides a grant for this event.

COVENANT COMMUNITY CHURCH

GIVE ME! GIVE ME!

Ever tried to pray one of those prayers like "Dear God, You know I love you, right? Since I love you so well don't you think you could do me some big favors? God, I would like a bigger house, a larger salary and all my problems to disappear. Oh, and God? Please do it ASAP because I feel like it's about time!" We love to treat God like our own genie in a bottle, don't we? We can be great and saying selfish prayers. I'm working on this week's sermon based in 1 John 3 and I have stumbled upon this verse that I hear used (also other versions in The Gospels) about based on vs. 22 "...we will receive from him anything we ask, because we obey his commands and do what pleases him." I've often tried to coerce God into giving me great things or even making me great while reading this verse (and others) out of context. These immature, faulty prayers cheapen God into a personal, room service magician instead of God: The Creator of the Universe, The Give of Life, The God of Reconciliation and Wholeness, The God of Miracles etc.

This verse, and others, speak about us being a part of God's good work on Earth in our limited days of life. Our days are not supposed to be selfish days filled with indulgence, materialism and jealousy. God desires for us to live Godly lives where we look outside of ourselves and ask God to allow us to be a part of bringing His Kingdom here and now! God's main message to us in 1 John, The Gospel of John and all The New Testament is quite simple: LOVE ONE ANOTHER! Today I challenge each reader to avoid online shopping, watching commercials and saying selfish prayers. I challenge you to spend time with God in prayer asking God to allow you to be a part of God's will being done.

1 John 3:23-24

And this is his command: to believe in the named of his Son, Jesus Christ, and to love one another as he commanded us. Those who obey his commands live in him, and he in them. And this is how we know that he lives in us: We know it by the Spirit he gave us.

CONGRESS
PAID FOR BY BOBBY BRIGHT FOR CONGRESS

"Meet and Greet"
former Congressman Bobby Bright
at Wyrosdick Farms BBQ
292 County Road 425, Elba, Alabama
Tuesday, April 24, 2018 • 5-8 p.m.
This event is open to the public. Hosted by Jamie and Steve Wyrosdick.

Bobby Bright, Republican candidate for Congress in Alabama's Second Congressional District in the June 5th Primary, will be at Wyrosdick Farms near Elba on Tuesday, April 24, from 5-8 p.m., to meet and greet local citizens. Bobby, who served on the U.S. House of Representatives Agriculture Committee in the 111th Congress, wants to listen to farmers' concerns and hear suggestions to improve Alabama's agricultural economy.
Bobby Bright is a two-term former Mayor of Montgomery and one-term Member of Congress.
Born in Dale County, Bright was raised as one of fourteen children in a sharecropping family. He worked to put himself through college and subsequently law school. He practiced law until being elected Mayor of Montgomery in 1999 and was elected to Congress in 2008. Since 2011, he has been farming in Elmore County.
"I am all in on President Trump's agenda to put America First and Drain the Swamp in Washington. I want to go back to Washington to make sure the true conservative values of the people are represented and provide the people of the Second District a Representative who is accessible and will be in the District to hear their needs," Bright said, adding, "I'm taking that message all across the District."

The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

We went clothes shopping with Lawson over the week-end and helped him pick out a number of shorts and shirts for the upcoming warm weather. We gave in and bought a couple of gym shorts and t-shirts, which he loves, but did get a couple of nice shorts and colored shirts. We haven't seen any of the 'good' stuff yet, but comfort is number one!

For what it is worth....

 The Elba Tigers saw their playoff hopes come to an abrupt end last week as they blew a 7-0 fifth inning lead and lost to Zion Chapel 9-8 in a 'must win' game for the Tigers. The Tigers hit the ball well in both games of the area series against the Rebels and had chances to win, but simply didn't have the depth on the mound and watched as their record slipped to 2-17. It hasn't been a season for the fans to remember, but hopefully the players will remember the season and make sure it doesn't happen again.

 The Elba Lady Tigers saw their dreams of winning the area title turn into a nightmare last week as they watched Zion Chapel break loose for six runs in the bottom of the final inning in an 8-5 loss that forced the Lady Tigers to settle for the runner-up spot in the area standings. The Lady Tigers have had a big 'bounce back' season and with a 7-7 record have already won more games than the last two seasons, combined, but wanted to win the area and host the post-season tournament to add to their resume. This bunch has already exceeded any and all expectations, and hopefully they will still have even more surprises up their sleeves before the season ends.

 A look around the area found most of the noise coming from up the road at Brantley as both the Bulldogs and Lady Bulldogs piled up the wins. The Bulldogs swept past Georgiana to clinch the area title and then swept 2A power New Brockton just for good measure, while the Lady Bulldogs reached the '30-win' plateau with a win over 7A Prattville. Both teams are heavy favorites with the post-season just around the corner and both have a shot at bringing home a state title! Kinston and New Brockton tuned up for this week's baseball playoffs with wins over quality opponents, and Zion Chapel doubled its win total in just two days with a sweep over Elba that put the Rebels into the playoffs. Over on the softball field, Kinston showed out at a tournament in Dothan with a win over 6A Auburn, while Zion Chapel locked down the area title and New Brockton showed once again it is much better than its record indicates.

 The Alabama High School Athletic Association was the news last week and announced that the Southeast Region basketball tournament would be moved from Dothan to Montgomery. The tourney had been hosted at the Dothan Civic Center for the past six years, but was never really a comfortable fit due to the design of the building and lack of parking, not to mention the miles logged by teams from Mobile and Montgomery. The tourney will now be housed at Garrett Coliseum, which is more famous for hosting rodeos than basketball games, but the new site will seat 12,500 fans, much more than the 1,900 seated at Dothan, and is centrally located in the state and easily accessible by four-lane highways. I have my doubts about just how good the aged facility will be, but it has to be as good as the Civic Center. In other news, the AHSAA announced that schools would have the choice of using 'instant replay' to review plays in football during the upcoming season. The schools will have to purchase a device to make it possible, and can even buy cameras that can be attached to the pylons in the endzone and the goalpost. High school football games are long enough as it is, but now that the coach can make a minimum of two challenges a game, and can make unlimited challenges as long as he doesn't miss twice, we may be at some games for thirty minutes longer, at least. Oh well, I can't really see a lot of schools our size having the funds to buy the needed equipment. So, we can hope for the best!

For state showcase

Alex Wright named 'South' all-star

Elba Tiger basketball standout Alex Wright will join three reigning player of the year winners selected last week to compete this summer in the annual AHSAA North-South basketball showcase, to be played on July 18, at the Alabama State University Acadome, in Montgomery. Wright, a 6-6, junior, power-forward, averaged double digits in both scoring and rebounding for the Tigers during the 2017-2018 season, and also excels on the football field, where he has drawn multiple offers from division one schools.

"Alex is certainly worthy of being selected for this North-South game and there is no doubt he can be one of the top players in the state before he graduates," said Elba head basketball coach William Moguel. "Last season was really the first season Alex was a full-time starter on the court, and he only got better and better as the season went along. We have known how good he is for quite some time, and now maybe folks from across the state will get the chance to watch him play against the best in the state."

The teams selected for the summer showcase consists of upcoming seniors and were selected by the Alabama Athletic Directors and Coaches Association. The games will tip off at 6:00 (Girls) and 7:30 (boys). The South coaches will be Bryant Johnson, of Robert E. Lee, and Mike Smith, of Eufaula.

Other area players named to the All-Star squads include (Boys)

Canada geese are pretty, but..

By Ericha S. Nix, Wildlife Biologist, Alabama Division of Wildlife and Freshwater Fisheries

The sights and sounds of a flock of Canada geese often bring to mind a peaceful scene. We enjoy watching them in the spring, tending to their brood, foraging on the banks of our ponds and lakes, or we hear them overhead and watch them fly in a "V" formation. For some landowners, however, the Canada goose is more a nuisance than an enjoyment.

Canada geese have greatly benefited and flourished from man's alterations to the landscape. In Alabama, Canada geese are readily observed year round throughout the state in both rural and urban areas. Most human-goose conflicts are affiliated with urban settings like parks, golf courses and large fields.

The most common complaint about Canada geese comes from landowners and business owners who are frustrated with the bird's droppings. When geese congregate in large numbers, the accumulation of their droppings can become very unpleasant and, in some instances, a health issue. Other impacts landowners experience include damage to lawns and landscaped areas due to overgrazing, injuries due to attacks from geese defending their nests or by slipping in fecal material. Health concerns can arise when geese congregate in shallow water areas, which could potentially increase bacteria levels via fecal coliform and other pathogens.

Several methods of controlling and/or preventing damage are available. The first step is to stop feeding the geese. Feeding geese — or any wild animal for that matter — leads to larger than normal congregations of the species, causes the animals to lose their fear of humans, and can lead to the animal's having a nutritional imbalance. Aggressive behaviors can be displayed by geese or other animals when they lose their fear of humans due to being fed.

Habitat modifications or landscaping (landscaping by a lake) can be quite effective in deterring geese from your property. Leaving a 13- to 15-foot-wide unmowed natural vegetative buffer that can reach 24 to 36 inches in height around the shoreline can reduce use of the area by geese. A natural vegetative buffer is comprised of native grasses, forbs and shrubs. The key is to have the buffer wide and tall enough to deter the geese. The goal here is to decrease your lawn's attractiveness to the geese. Populations are on the rise mostly due to changes in the landscape by humans.

Elba loses late to Zion Chapel 8-5

The Elba Lady Tigers saw their goal of claiming the regular season area title fall one win short as they dropped a heartbreaking 8-5 loss to Zion Chapel, last week at Zion Chapel.

The Lady Tigers failed to get a hit over the game's initial three innings and trailed 2-0 heading into the top of the fourth, but cut the deficit in half in the frame when McKenzie Hooks lined a one-out single and scored on an rbi single by A'Maysia Whitfield.

The Lady Tigers continued their rally in the fifth inning as they plated three runs to grab a 4-2 lead. A leadoff single by Alyssa Kyles sparked the rally, while the key hit in the frame was a 3-run homer by Sandra Lindsey that sailed over the fence in left-center.

Elba's lead grew to 5-2 in the sixth when Mckenlie Jerkins singled and came around the score on a pair of stolen bases and a Zion Chapel error, and stayed that way until the bottom of the seventh, when Zion Chapel took advantage of three Elba errors to pull within one run, and then claimed the win on a walk-off grand-slam home run.

Sandra Lindsey had 1 hit, scored 1 run and collected 3 rbi's to lead Elba at the plate, while McKenzie Hooks and Mckenlie Jerkins both added 1 hit and scored 1 run, and A'Maysia Whitfield, Alyssa Kyles and Praise Edwards all added 1 hit. Jerkins was the losing pitcher despite allowing only one earned run on four hits, with eight strikeouts.

Lady Tigers stop 'Brockton and Samson

The Elba Lady Tigers continued their recent winning ways last week with an area win over New Brockton 6-4 and a lopsided road win over Samson 17-5.

Following are highlights of both wins:

Elba 6 New Brockton 4

The Lady Tigers used a 3-run third inning to regain the lead and held on late to escape with a 6-4 area win over New Brockton.

Elba jumped out to an early 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning when Sandra Lindsey singled and circled the bases on a combination of stolen bases and passed balls, then added a run in the second to regain the lead at 2-1 when Alyssa Kyles reached on a walk and scored on an rbi single by Lindsey.

New Brockton plated two runs in the top of the third to move back in front 3-2, but the Lady Tigers again answered and scored three runs in their half of the frame to grab a 5-3 advantage.

A leadoff double by McKenzie Hooks sparked the third inning uprising, while Mckenlie Jerkins and A'Maysia Whitfield both scored after drawing walks to help Elba move back in front.

New Brockton cut the Elba lead to 5-4 in the fifth. However, the Lady Tigers added an insurance run in the sixth when Mone Martin drew a one-out walk and came around to score on a New Brockton error to enable the Lady Tigers to claim the 6-4 win.

rbi to lead Elba at the plate, while McKenzie Hooks added 1 hit and scored 1 run and Mckenlie Jerkins, A'Maysia Whitfield, Alyssa Kyles and Mone Martin all scored one run. Mckenlie Jerkins scattered six hits, allowed two earned runs and recorded four strikeouts to get the win inside the circle.

Elba 17 Samson 5

The Lady Tigers overcame a slow start to claim a big 17-5 win over Samson, in a six-inning contest in Samson.

Elba jumped out to an early 3-0 lead in the top of the first inning, with the big blow being a two-run double by McKenzie Hooks that drove in Sandra Lindsey and Kira Starks, and added two runs in the second without the benefit of a hit as Lindsey and Leah Faircloth both scored thanks to walks and a Samson error.

The Lady Tigers added a lone run in the third when A'Maysia Whitfield delivered a two-out single and was forced in after three straight walks. However, Samson also scored in all three innings and headed into the fourth the Lady Tigers clung to a slim 6-5 lead.

The Lady Tigers broke loose for five runs in the top of the fourth to finally take charge, with Kira Starks, Mckenlie Jerkins, Alyssa Kyles and Mone Martin all getting base hits and circling the bases to help Elba open up an 11-5 advantage.

A leadoff single by Kira Starks ignited a two-run outburst by the Lady Tigers, that enabled Elba to stretch its lead to 13-5, and the Lady Tigers combined an rbi single by Starks with four walks in the sixth to runaway with the 17-5 road win.

COMMUNITY NEWS

started moving in [to the area] in the 1830s and the community grew. They named it Bridgeville first because they finally put a bridge across Pea River," Helms said. "Many years later, there is a war going on with the Creek Indians, and Colonel Benton from Arkansas comes in to help fight in this war. After he left we were so appreciative, we named it Bentonville. And, then finally Elba."

Helms said there is a legend that goes along with the city being named Elba. She said it was that the citizens put names on a piece of paper, put them in a hat, drew one, and out came Elba. She said that was because one of the citizens had just read an autobiography on Napoleon and like the name Elba from the little island off the coast of France in the Mediterranean Sea.

"So...Elba. Once it was decided it would be incorporated that was in April," Helms said.

A few months prior to that, in October, Helms said it was decided the town would be the site of the county courthouse.

"We had a citizen...buried right here [in Evergreen Cemetery]...John B. Simmons and two others, Gafford Yelverton and his wife Martha...we have streets named for these people today," Helms continued. "They actually gave the land for which the courthouse and surrounding square would be built. So, we are thankful to people in our past."

She also noted that Moses Helms sold the Evergreen Primitive Baptist Church – 11 acres of land – upon which the cemetery started. Now, it is an estimated 23 acres.

"There is a need for more land," Helms noted. "We are an old town – 165 years old – we have a lot of history, a lot of people, and a lot of love."

Helms said looking to the now, Elba is so fortunate to have people that have given good leadership, people who love the community, and people who have been through tragedies.

"You don't stop," she said. "You just keep working to say what is important to you...what touches your heart, and then you celebrate days like today when we come together to say 'thank you'."

The oldest grave in the Evergreen Cemetery is that of a young child, George Yelverton, born August 1848 and died July 1849. John Simmons, founder of Elba, also is buried in the fenced section of the Evergreen Cemetery.

The City of Elba owns the cemetery, but it is managed and maintained by a Cemetery Perpetual Care Board, which was established in 1993. The board seeks donations to pay for the maintenance of the cemetery, which is about $25,000 per year.

Immediately following last Friday mornings unveiling of the historical marker for the cemetery, everyone in attendance was invited to the summer house to enjoy "birthday cake" celebrating Elba's 165 years of incorporation.

THIS ALABAMA HISTORICAL MARKER was officially unveiled Friday, April 13, at Elba's Evergreen Cemetery. The marker was erected next to the summer house, which was recently renovated. Elba street department employees helped install the marker.
